

BEGINNING OF A BARRICADE. These toll bridge commission workmen began putting up a barricade across the Pennsylvania side of the Delaware free bridge at 12:32 a.m. today. Bridge is "temporarily closed" to comply with the order issued this week by Federal Judge Forman. An appeal of Forman's decision that the bridge should be closed is now pending in Circuit Court. Barricades were delivered an hour and a half earlier. Workmen had to wait until a larger sign was placed on toll bridge at Portland-Columbia area.

Jet Airliner Reported Lost With 21 Aboard

London, Friday (AP)—British Overseas Airways Corp. said early today that one of its big jet Comet airliners with 21 persons aboard has vanished on a flight from Rome to Cairo.

A spokesman said the plane carried 14 passengers and a crew of seven South Africans.

Sir Miles Thomas, BOAC chairman, immediately suspended all Comet services pending further information. This was the second time the Comets have been grounded this year.

A search by air and sea was launched from Malta and Rome, but there was little hope that any wreckage could be learned until dawn.

Trainer Hits Big Airliner; 37 Lose Lives

Moose Jaw, Sask., (AP)—A Royal Canadian Air Force training plane rammed an airliner loaded with passengers yesterday and flaming death claimed 37 lives.

There were no survivors from this, Canada's worst airline disaster.

A wreckage showed 36 died in the crashed planes, and one woman was killed on the ground when two engines and part of the burning cabin of the Trans-Canada North Star liner plowed through a house and trapped her in it.

Among the victims were Rodney Adamson, 51, Progressive Conservative party member of Parliament, and his wife, and Pat Reid, 58, famous northland bush pilot, and his wife.

Thirty-one passengers, including five on company passes, and a crew of four were in the North Star enroute from Montreal to Vancouver. The Harvard trainer was piloted by a British solo flyer from a training field near Moose Jaw.

Witnesses said the trainer rammed into the liner, slicing off one of the liner's wings. There was a loud explosion, like cannon fire, then the planes fell, with fire shooting from the North Star's spinning tail.

Cool Air Chills Eastern States

By The Associated Press
Cool Canadian air spread across a large area of the eastern half of the nation yesterday.

Temperatures dropped below freezing in the Northern Plains and northern Great Lakes and Upper Mississippi Valley regions. Bernidji, Minn., was the coldest spot on the weather map with a low of eight degrees above zero.

Three Small Children Go Exploring When Mothers Leave Car Briefly To Visit Store

Three tots, the oldest of whom was three, didn't get too far on their window shopping tour of Stroudsburg yesterday, but for the 15 minutes they were gone from their mothers' car the trio caused some real excitement.

Jacob Dietrich, custodian for Stroudsburg Security Trust Co., spotted the youngsters at noon coming across Main St. at Seventh hand-in-hand without a care in the world.

A few words were exchanged without throwing any light on the destination of the tots, so Dietrich took the two girls and a boy to the office of Sheriff Jacob Altomose and Stroudsburg

Free Bridge Closed At Delaware, N. J.

The "free bridge" at Delaware, N. J. was barricaded and closed early today.

Officials of the Delaware Joint Toll Bridge Commission posted a sign on the bridge. The sign said:

"Dead end. Bridge closed pending court appeal."

A barricade was thrown across the bridge entrance at 12:32 a.m.—32 minutes after midnight on the day that Federal Judge Phillip Forman had ruled the bridge should be "temporarily closed pending a court appeal."

On hand to witness the closing were several officials of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission. Among these were W. H. Wilson, the commission engineer and Robert A. Haney, assistant treasurer and commission comptroller.

Trucks bearing the wooden planks and four-by-six beams for the barricade and tools for its erection arrived at the bridge at 11:15 last night. Workers gathered in the guard shack near the bridge; then unloaded the sections of the barricade. Each section was numbered with yellow chalk to specify its placement as part of the barrier.

Shortly before midnight chief engineer Wilson and other toll commission officers arrived. After discussing procedure for placement of the two signs, Wilson, Haney and the others drove to the new toll bridge.

At the free bridge workers waited more than a half hour for a signal to put up the "closed" sign. At 12:02 a Fowler and Williams semi-trailer stopped. The driver shouted: "Well, I'm the last guy to cross, I guess." But he was wrong. During the next 30 minutes six more large trucks crossed the bridge.

At 12:26 a.m. a commission truck bearing a "closed" sign with the same wording backed up to the entrance on the New Jersey side. An Olean transport truck from Elmira, N. Y., was the last vehicle to cross to Pennsylvania from New Jersey on the bridge.

At 12:29 a.m. Wilson arrived back on the scene. Hopping from the car while it was still in motion the engineer rushed to the commission guard, told him to give the signal to close the bridge. The guard blew his whistle.

Workers quickly carried the large eight-foot tall sign from the side of the road to the center of the bridge; began drilling holes in the planks and piecing the barricades together.

At 12:31 Wilson shouted for his driver to bring his car forward. "Hurry up, Bob," he said. "I want to get to the other side and talk to those officers." Then, to the workmen: "Hold it up a minute. We want to get across."

At 12:32, Wilson's car passed between the posts of the barrier. He was the last car to cross the free bridge.

A few minutes earlier officials police were informed of the incident. "Where are your mothers?" was one of the questions. "They ran away from us," was the answer.

But while Dietrich and Altomose were quizzing the three explorers, their mothers burst into the room, grabbed up their tots and explained it this way:

They drove here from Blairstown, N. J. and told the youngsters to wait in the car while they went to a nearby store for hamburgers. But the two sisters and little "Mikey Brown" couldn't wait. Leaving three other brothers and sisters in the car parked on the east side of Seventh St. near the First Stroudsburg National Bank, they went for a walk.

When the mothers returned and discovered the tots missing, inquiries from the man-on-the-street sent them to Altomose's office.

Mike told Altomose he lived "in a big house" and said he'd recognize it if Altomose drove him around the Stroudsburgs. What the kiddies didn't say was they lived in Blairstown and the sudden arrival of the mothers saved Altomose quite a long drive.

U. S. Threatens Slash In Aid To Allies

Britain, France Told To Unite Against Reds

By Warren Rogers Jr.

Washington (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Knowland put Britain and France on notice yesterday that Congress might hold up foreign aid appropriations to spur for Allied unity against Asiatic communism.

Knowland spoke out shortly before the State Department announced that Secretary Dulles may fly to London and Paris for urgent consultations on the Indochina crisis.

Diplomatic officials said they understood Dulles planned to leave by special Air Force plane Sunday for London for two days of talks with Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden. Dulles then plans to hop to Paris Wednesday for two days of discussions with Premier Laniel and French leaders, these officials said. His tentative schedule they said, calls for him to return and report to President Eisenhower by the end of the week.

Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee told newsmen who asked him if he had any comment on Knowland's statement, "The situation in Indochina, coupled with the French inaction in France, might very well have a serious effect on our foreign aid program."

The California senator cited evidence that Britain and France were in no hurry to respond to Dulles' overtures for a 10-nation coalition to bolster the anti-Red fight in Southeast Asia.

If America's allies "want to take a new reading" based on what happens at the forthcoming Geneva conference with the Communists, Knowland told newsmen, then Congress might take a new reading of its own.

He put it this way: "Since some of the nations with which we are associated have been suggesting they wait until after Geneva before deciding how to respond to Secretary Dulles' inquiries regarding their willingness to join in collective action should there be further aggression in Southeast Asia, I find growing sentiment in Congress that perhaps it should delay until after Geneva before determining its final policy regarding appropriations in support of those NATO countries—particularly those dragging their feet insofar as EDC is concerned."

This last apparently was aimed directly at France, which has put off time and time again taking any action on ratifying the six-nation European Defense Community.

Publisher Indicted For Article

Las Vegas, Nev., (AP)—Publisher H. M. Greenspun of the Las Vegas Morning Sun was indicted yesterday by a federal grand jury on a charge of mailing copies of his newspaper containing an article on Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) which tended to "incite arson, murder or assassination."

Greenspun is a bitter and outspoken critic of the senator.

The true bill, announced by Federal Judge Roger T. Foley, charged the publisher on Jan. 8, 1954, "deposited 874 Morning Sun papers containing nonmailable matters."

The indictment contained a copy of a column Greenspun wrote in the Sun which said "Sen. Joe McCarthy has to come to a violent end . . . and I would hate to see some simpleton get the chair for such a public service as getting rid of McCarthy."

State AFL Elects New President

Pittsburgh (AP)—Joseph A. McDonough of Philadelphia was elected president of the AFL Pennsylvania Federation of Labor yesterday without opposition.

He will succeed James L. McDewitt, also of Philadelphia, July 1 in the $16,000-a-year post. McDewitt is retiring to devote full time to his job as national director of the AFL League for Political Action.

McDonough had the support of both the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh Central Labor Unions, which have an important voice in federation affairs.

Radar Fence Being Erected In Far North To Guard U.S.; Canada Against A-Attack

Washington (AP)—The United States and Canada are setting up a new radar warning fence along the tundra and ice of the arctic perimeter in an effort to give the big cities to the south at least a six-hour notice of approaching enemy warplanes.

Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson said yesterday that preliminary work on the project is "well advanced."

In a statement, similar to one issued simultaneously in Ottawa, the American defense chief also said that warning nets for the flanks stretching out over the oceans to either side of North America are being augmented.

The new, northernmost chain of radar sets to detect enemy planes and guide friendly planes to interception of an enemy force, is part of an intensified effort to tighten the guard against

Arabs Bolt Dinner When Offended

Washington (AP)—An elaborate "good will" luncheon thrown by the U. S. government for foreign diplomats yesterday wound up in a wrathful walkout by Arab guests and a flurry of apologies for the remarks of an American Jewish speaker.

Four Arab state diplomats and an unidentified Arab friend left in high dudgeon, some of them banging their chairs to the floor, after Dr. Norman Salt of New York assailed Arab tactics and referred to Israel as "the only democracy in the Near East."

Salt, president of the Synagogue Council of America, later sent a written apology to Secretary of State Dulles and Postmaster General Summerfield, co-sponsors of the luncheon, and asked that it be passed along to the offended Arabs. Summerfield himself told the embassies of Iraq, Syria, Saudi Arabia and Egypt that Salt's remarks were "a source of deep personal regret" to him.

Deer Killed After Being Hit By Car

Delaware Water Gap—A deer that was injured severely Tuesday night when struck by a car on the approach to the new Delaware River bridge here, was discovered near the highway yesterday and destroyed.

Frank Decker, a former game warden, said he learned of the wounded deer Wednesday but its location was learned only yesterday.

The animal was struck by a car whose operator notified bridge officers. The deer continued running after the impact and was found by Decker about 150 yards from the highway on the Otto Gehm property.

Its left hind leg was broken and the animal suffered internal injuries, Decker said. He destroyed it, then notified John Doebeling, Monroe County game warden.

Steak Dinner Catches Fire

An overheated steak dinner sent firemen to the Russell E. Williams home at 505 Fulmer Ave., Stroudsburg, late yesterday afternoon. Evidently grease caught fire inside the oven while the steak was sizzling and flames and smoke emerged from the rear of the stove.

Williams called the fire company. The steak was salvaged intact, and the fire was put out before any damage was done to the wall.

Attorney General To Speak Tonight

Washington (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell tonight will make a radio-television speech described as a "report to the nation on the fight against Communism."

The Justice Department said CBS, Dumont and NBC plan live telecasts of the speech from 9 to 9:30 p. m. CBS, Mutual and NBC will broadcast it on radio from 10:30 to 11 p. m. and ABC will carry it on both television and radio from 11:30 to midnight.

Bill Differs From Measure Ike Requested

Washington (AP)—The House passed a bill yesterday to legalize wiretapped evidence in national security cases, but refused the administration's request that the attorney general be given a free hand in such investigations.

Instead, the House voted 221-166 to require federal court approval before the attorney general could order wires tapped to collect evidence against suspected spies and saboteurs.

An administration bill which would have given sole authority to the attorney general was rejected in favor of a substitute by Rep. Willis (D-La.) containing the provision for prior court approval. Thirty-two Republicans and one independent lined up with 188 Democrats for the Willis substitute. All 166 opposing votes were Republican.

After setting this issue, the House passed the bill on a 378-10 vote and sent it to the Senate.

The measure would abolish the 20-year-old ban on the use of wiretap evidence in federal courts. It would also permit the future use of such information already in the files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The attorney general would not require a court order to make use of this evidence, thus allowing the Justice Department to prosecute cases which have been stalled by the old ban. Officials have indicated that one of these is the case of Judith Coplan, alleged to have passed government secrets to a Soviet agent. She was twice convicted but the convictions were up-set on appeal.

Opponents of the administration bill claimed that unlimited authority for the attorney general would make wiretapping subject to political abuse and encourage "police state" tactics. Supporters argued that the necessity of obtaining court approval would handicap law enforcement officials in the performance of duties.

The dispute over the right to use wiretapped evidence goes back to 1928, when the Supreme Court held it to be legal and not in violation against unlawful search and seizure.

But in 1934 Congress enacted the Federal Communications Act, which expressly prohibited intercepting communications and divulging the contents except with express approval of the sender.

In 1937 the courts held this to include federal agents and meant that the contents of intercepted communications could not be "divulged" in federal courts as evidence.

The administration bill, sponsored by Rep. Keating (R-NY), made wiretapped information admissible as evidence but only so far as it would apply to cases of treason, espionage, sabotage and conspiracy involving the national security.

Lenten Meditation

"Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your Father who is in Heaven." Matthew 5:16.

In our general approach to the season of Lent, we are generally engrossed in the thought of repentance and self denial; so much so that we can easily miss "the sunrise," or the opportunity of bearing witness to the beauty and glory of the Gospel of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

Are we shining Christians or has our light grown dim.

Every Christian has a light peculiar to himself. Someone has truthfully said, "A good example is the tallest kind of preaching." The power of good example can never be truly evaluated.

No matter how bright your light is, if you insist upon putting it under a bushel instead of placing it where the eyes of men can see it. It is wasted.

Children Invited To Enter Fishing Contest This Month

By James B. Gaffney

Stroudsburg's Montgomery Ward Co. store came up yesterday with a "no-strings-attached" fishing contest for children from 8 to 14.

According to Kenneth Noble, assistant manager, the store plans to award three prizes to the boys and girls hooking the longest trout from April 15 to April 30. While the company plans to insert coupons in its future advertisements in this newspaper, officials have said no merchandise purchases or other schemes are involved in their plan. They merely want to give a bicycle as first prize, fishing outfit for second, and baseball glove to the third winner.

Charles Cather, manager, is heading arrangements for the contest. Fred Albert, sporting goods department head, is assisting. Winners will be announced at 7 p.m. May 1, it was announced.

Four hundred Patterson-Kelley Co. employees will each receive a canned ham in time for the Easter Sunday dinner, Frank L. Patterson Jr., company president disclosed yesterday.

The East Stroudsburg firm presents such an award annually, but in past years turkeys were distributed.

George Weiss has been named manager of Gulf Oil Company's new service station on N. 5th St. Walter Peeney, Gulf dealer for this region and operator of the area chain, disclosed Weiss' assignment yesterday and said a grand opening is being planned for the immediate future.

Weiss is a life-long resident of the N. 5th St. section, one of the area's rapidly growing communities. He has 17 years experience in the service station field but worked for Worthington Mower Co. until his appointment as manager of the station.

Peeney said the two-bay porcelain-enamel structure will open from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. seven days a week to accommodate motorists. In addition to providing gasoline and oil service, the station is equipped to handle car washings and lubrications. A large parking area surrounds the building.

Pennsylvania Power & Light Company's new common stock issue will be offered to common shareholders for subscription at the rate of $30.75 per share, according to registration statement price amendment filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Under the terms of the PP&L offer the company is offering its common shareholders the right to subscribe for 704,917 shares of additional common stock at the rate of one share for each seven shares held of record April 2, 1954. The company is also arranging for the underwriters to offer shares of new common stock to holders of Scranton Electric common stock, also at $30.75 per share, but, on the subscription basis of one share for each 14 shares of Scranton common stock held.

Subscription warrants on this offering, largest in the company's history, expire April 19, 1954. The First Boston Corp. and Drexel & Co., have been named joint managers of a group underwriting the offering.

J. A. Malloy of Chipperfield Drive is staging the grand opening of his Dairy Queen from 3 to 10 p.m. today.

Malloy plans to distribute free sample sundaes in the seven hours. The new business is on N. 9th St., opposite the Beaver House. Malloy plans to keep open from noon to 11:30 p.m.

Band To Hold Party
Tannersville — Band members of Pocono Township High School have scheduled a skating party for April 13 at Wile-A-Way, Cresco. It was announced last night. A bus will leave from Starn's Garage at 7:15 p.m. for the affair.

Benson Seeks To Bolster Markets

Harrisburg (P)—The U. S. Agriculture Department is joining milk producer organizations in a two-pronged program aimed at bolstering dairy markets during the new marketing year. Ezra T. Benson, U. S. Agriculture secretary, announced the department's step as new support prices at 75 per cent of parity went into effect. The USDA program calls for a promotion program to push consumption of dairy products, and an education program to increase culling of low-production animals.

Contractor Petitions Court For Injunction In YMCA Dispute

H. L. Cleveland Requests Ban On Picketing

Contractor Hanford L. Cleveland yesterday turned to the courts in an attempt to break the YMCA deadlock.

His attorneys asked for an injunction against Local 655, Plumbers and Steamfitters, which has picketed the job since last September.

There has been no work done on the building since picketing was started a half-year ago. The $455,000 project went dead at a point where steelwork was erected and plumbing was about to be installed.

Attorneys Elmer D. Christine and Walter Olenick filed the petition for preliminary injunction.

President Judge Fred W. Davis set 10 a. m. April 14 as the time for hearing on the petition.

Cleveland is a non-union contractor. The argument made by the union is that the plumbing should be done by union men.

The petition filed yesterday claimed defendants were trying to "coerce" Cleveland into "commission of an unfair labor practice."

Defendants listed in the complaint were: United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipe Fitting Industry of the United States and Canada; Local 655 of that union; and Ralph Paul, the local's business agent.

The complaint defined what it meant by unfair practice this way, in part:

"... Forcing and coercing the plaintiff into unlawful interference with the freedom of his employees to bargain collectively... and engaging in a course of conduct calculated to coerce plaintiff to require his employees to become members of the union..."

Cleveland's petition said that during the past six months the union "frequently" had appealed to his men to join, but that the majority have not become members. And the majority have not been and are not in sympathy with the union or its picketing, and do not approve of their methods, aims and purposes in the dispute, the petition added.

Cleveland's offices are at 15 Crystal St., East Stroudsburg. He employs about 14 men, according to the petition.

The seven-page document traced the history of Cleveland's part in the building program from the time he signed a contract with the YMCA on Feb. 23, 1953, and made 32 allegations.

Picketing started Sept. 28 last year and all work stopped except that being done by Cleveland's men, it said.

On Aug. 24, 1953, the union submitted a form of contract to Cleveland which would have required him to hire only union men, said the complaint. Cleveland turned down the contract after his men told him they didn't want to join a union.

The union group told Cleveland that "the only way work could be resumed at the YMCA" would be to have his men join the union or else release his contract to union plumbers, said the document.

"Defendants requested plaintiff to call a meeting with his employees for the purpose of urging, encouraging and advising said employees to join a labor organization, contrary to provisions of the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Act of 1937."

The petition alleged these points: The union advised Cleveland that if he would "see to it" that his men joined a union, the picket at the Y would be withdrawn; or that the picket would be withdrawn if he would at any time sign a union contract.

The picketing at the Y was never preceded by any demand for any change in the wages, hours or working conditions of his employees, and the sole purpose of the picketing was to "coerce plaintiff to join the union—and to fire those" who refused, the complaint alleged.

The last two pages of the petition ask, in part, that a preliminary injunction—later to become permanent—be granted which would prevent the union and its agents from:

One — Interfering with, hindering or obstructing the conduct or operation of plaintiff's business.

Two — Picketing the Y in an attempt to coerce plaintiff into committing an unfair labor practice.

Three — In any manner by picketing or otherwise preventing anyone whether plaintiff's employees or otherwise, from freely entering or leaving the Y premises.

Four — Conspiring, combining, confederating and arranging with each other or with any other person or persons, organizations or associations to interfere with or injure plaintiff in the conduct of his business... by picketing and carrying signs saying "This job is being picketed by Local Union No. 655 Plumbers and Steamfitters."

Five — Performing any of these acts so as to induce others to fail to continue and complete the work and business of plaintiff.

The petition finally asked award of unspecified damages and general relief.

EARLY EASTER EGGS. This supply of colored eggs, hard-boiled eggs and chocolate eggs was turned over to General Hospital officials this week by students from East Stroudsburg Junior High School. They were collected as admission price for a dance held last Friday at the school: either one 10-cent chocolate egg or two colored boiled eggs. Student council furnished the refreshments at dance; co-sponsored it with seventh graders. The eggs—more than 14 dozen of them—were turned over to hospital officials for placement on patients' trays during this pre-Easter season. Looking over the "tickets" in the photo are Earl Miller, faculty member and master of ceremonies at the dance; James Brymer and Tommy Howell, of the door committee.

LeRoy Dengler's Hand, Face Burned By Firecracker

Richmond, Va. (AP) — A firecracker exploded in the hand of R. LeRoy Dengler yesterday, burning the Mount Pocono, Pa., man's right hand and causing facial injuries.

Dengler said he was trying to throw the firecracker from a moving automobile when it went off. He was brought to a Richmond hospital for treatment.

Hospital attendants quoted Dengler, a 69-year-old hotel owner, as saying: "At my age, I was doing childish tricks."

Dengler was reported enroute home from Florida, where he had been on vacation.

Driver Hurt, Taxi Wrecked At Fern Ridge

Fern Ridge — A Wilkes-Barre taxi driver suffered injuries and his cab was completely demolished at 5 a. m. yesterday when the car plunged off Route 315 near the State police barracks here.

State police identified the driver as Stanley Adams. He will be charged with reckless driving at a hearing before Justice of the Peace Isaac Dyson, Pocono Lake, police said.

Adams told police he was forced off the highway by another car. But police said tire marks show Adams, traveling north, skidded off the east side of the highway a distance of 250 feet, crossed to the west side and went over an embankment. His car traveled another 100 feet from the highway before rolling over, police said.

A Pocono Lake physician treated Adams for a fractured right collarbone and cuts of the head.

Council Agrees To State's Plea On 'No Strings' Basis

Clarification of the relationship between the Borough of Stroudsburg and the State Highway Department in relation to a new bridge at Fifth St. and reconstruction of Broad St. has been ordered by council. Move has been initiated for two reasons.

First, council was presented this week with a request from the highway department to approve one-side parking only on the new 30-foot Broad St. predicated, according to the state, on the fact that council has already approved plans of the state for the entire project.

No such approval was ever given, either by motion or ordinance.

Council expressed a complete willingness to approve parking on the west side of Broad St., only, but without any strings such as approval of the state's plans either by ordinance or otherwise.

Reason for this is that the borough has decided not to jeopardize its position by becoming a party to any right-of-way damages.

Monroe County commissioners agreed to pay right-of-way damages and other costs involved, such as curb and gutter for a sum amounting to about $21,200.

The borough had predicated payment for similar costs on allocation of that cost from liquid fuel tax monies from the County of Monroe. After negotiations with the county for these costs, plus a regular gasoline tax grant for other street work in Stroudsburg failed, the borough washed its hands of the whole project insofar as costs were concerned.

Borough's position at that time was that the state, in order to relieve the county of responsibility of Fifth St. bridge which the county once owned, had to take over not only the bridge but Broad St., since the law prevents the state from taking over a bridge only, but permits taking over a street or road. Fifth St. bridge, a county property, was thus made part of a borough street—Broad St.—under the act taking over the structure in order to relieve the county at that time of cost of replacing a worn-out bridge.

Council took the position they'd be happy to have their street back, but since the bridge had belonged to the county, and failure to prosecute the project because of a lack of borough funds, would necessarily mean the bridge would return to the county.

Illness Closes Schools In Pocono Lake

Pocono Pines — Tobyhanna Township students are getting a half-week vacation because half of them have been sick.

A variety of diseases caused a 50-percent-plus absent list early this week, according to Dr. James G. Kitchen II, school physician.

School officials and the doctor finally decided on Tuesday night that it would be better to close the school until next week. Otherwise, officials said, the rest of the children might contract influenza or other diseases now making the rounds in the area.

Dr. Kitchen said that the closing action could not be blamed on any one specific disease, although measles have been very prevalent in the area.

Other illnesses—including influenza, bronchitis and tonsillitis—have also cut down attendance, the physician said.

The school was closed on Wednesday morning. Students will not return until Monday, April 12. Today is a holiday for all Monroe County students. It is the second of two "Teachers Institute" days scheduled for the year.

Boiler Shed Is Damaged By Flames

Fire broke out in an old frame shed which houses the Chester Finishing Corp. boilers in East Stroudsburg yesterday.

Employees of the Brown St. firm had made a start of beating down the flames of the mid-afternoon fire by using hand extinguishers and a small fire hose.

The blaze was quenched with the aid of East Stroudsburg Fire Co. Other, more modern boilers are in use too, and were unaffected by the fire. Employees at the plant said the blaze would not interfere with operation of the plant.

Damages were confined to several holes burned through the frame wall and the roof.

Program To Be Repeated

Kresgeville — An overflow crowd turned out last night for the gym exhibition presented by the Polk Township Consolidated School here. So large was the crowd that it was decided to repeat the program next Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the school.

The physical education demonstration consisted of exercises and dances by pupils of all 12 grades.

County Schools Closed Today

All county schools will be closed today. This is the second of two days set aside annually for "Teachers Institute."

Teachers from Monroe schools are allowed to visit other schools either in this state or outside of it; to attend "Schoolmen's Week" programs in Philadelphia or visit the United Nations in New York.

Borough School Board Okays Tentative Budget

A budget of $406,578.68 was given tentative approval by Stroudsburg School Board last night.

The tentative budget calls for no increase in taxes although the total is $26,000 higher than the budget for the current school year.

Capital outlay of $28,746.30 is up about $9,000 over the last budget. This includes such major items as two rooms at Morey School for an estimated $10,000, and replacement of a heating unit at $8,500. Continuation of the program for improved lighting will cost about $4,500, with the benefits slated for both the high school and Ramsey school.

Teachers' salaries account for more than half of the proposed expenses. The total salaries are estimated at $252,450—or about $19,100 higher than last budget.

Directors estimated these tax levies: 33 mills on real estate assessed at $4,696,415, returns of $153,991.70; $5 per capita tax on 4,300 assessed persons, returns of $19,030; total levies, $192,051.70.

Receipts: Balance from last year, $14,000. Estimated receipts from total current and delinquent taxes, $191,223.30, or about $10,000 higher than last budget.

State appropriations estimates show a drop from $120,541.19 to $88,624.38 as a result of a State decision to make tuition payments direct to the district sending the student, instead of to the school he attends.

This is balanced in the budget by the increase in the amount paid by districts sending tuition students to the borough, from last year's $65,000 to the new estimate of $109,131.

Reimbursement for the playground from Stroudsburg Borough remains $2,100. Also the same is receipt of $1,500 in medical and dental reimbursement.

Expenses: General control expenses total

Cherry Lane—Funeral services for Miss Bertha Elsie Ranken, 76, former resident of here, will be held at 8 tonight in the Heck Memorial home, 13th and Bushkill Sts., Easton. Interment will be made tomorrow in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Miss Ranken lived at 2261 William Penn Highway, Easton, with a brother, Adolph. She died at 10:15 a. m. Wednesday in Easton Hospital where she had been a patient since March 2.

She was a member of the local Methodist Church. At one time she lived in the Bartonville section and had resided with Miss Mary McNeilly, Miss Jennie Warner of Reeders and Mrs. Frank Metzgar in Bartonville.

Born in Brooklyn she was a daughter of the late Herman and Catherine Horain Ranken.

Surviving in addition to her brother, are twin sisters, Mrs. Henry Wassermann and Mrs. Joseph Marshall, both of Brooklyn.

Again... Children Come FIRST

Directors of the YMCA yesterday released a statement—something of an accounting—of their stewardship relative to the new $450,000 center for the youth of the community.

Another development yesterday tossed this work stoppage and picketing situation into the courts.

From the Y directors' report one would gather they have done everything possible to bring this badly needed character building, recreation, health and anti-youth delinquency center to fruition.

We also know union men who are just as anxious to have their youngsters benefit from this facility.

Where is the blockade?

Can it be that hardheadedness, refusal to compromise, adamant insistence on a "we're first" basis shall deprive the youth of this youth center?

The merits of the court action will be decided after all the evidence is in. Naturally, that decision will have a bearing on the Y building project.

The sad fact remains that the youth of this community, their parents—union and non-union—and the people who contributed to this project are being balked by a six month delay which this newspaper believes is without parallel in community shame.

Quit Kicking Kids Around!

Action of Bangor school directors Wednesday night in closing their school to East Bangor ninth graders beginning with the Fall term necessarily demands some careful scrutiny.

That scrutiny must be predicated on the welfare of young people who have the right to a sound education and a sound educational program.

Is the Bangor board action to be termed a "squeeze" play to drive East Bangor into a jointure action? Is it tinged with impatience or anger because of the seven year-long wrangle over the jointure?

What will it accomplish in terms of achieving an economically sound educational plant with proper, uncrowded facilities which citizens have a right to demand—a demand that they should promptly enforce for their children of the State Belt area?

Squeeze play or no squeeze play, this newspaper deplores the fact that some students in East Bangor may be penalized by this action.

As to the question of anger or impatience, if any of these factors exist, the answer is that somebody has forgotten the principle that every child is entitled to a free education, uncomplicated by emotional outbursts of any sort from their elders.

What this move will accomplish in terms of providing such an education is the real test at issue. Our previous assertion that "CHILDREN COME FIRST" still stands.

It is time the citizens of Bangor, Roseto, East Bangor, Upper and Lower Mt. Bethel and Washington Townships and Portland get down to business and enforce that fundamental principle.

Parking Cooperation Required

Moves by Stroudsburg Council to solve both traffic movement and the all-day parking problems in the business district of the borough should be received with appreciation by shoppers and business men alike.

The answers to both parking and traffic situations will cost money. Execution of a plan based on these answers will cost money.

Obviously, borough council recognizes that anything done to ease these critical conditions will be money well spent.

However, we can see an avenue open to businessmen and other property owners, who will be contacted for space at the rear of their Main St. properties, to facilitate this project.

All of these businessmen have a self interest, a direct gain to be made from full cooperation with council's plan to set up parking areas. Their business will be right on top of a full-day parking lot.

From this purely selfish standpoint and for the overall good to be accomplished, complete cooperation should be extended to council's efforts.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

Around the world dark demons stalk—
We focus on a luncheon talk!

Above us looms a fearful doom—
We ask, "Just what was said by whom?"

The tortured millions weep and groan—
We chirp, "Now back to Schine and Cohn!"
White crosses rise for countless dead—
But hark! "What was it Adams said?"

With lethal tools great nations race—
We switch to "The McCarthy Case";
We ask, as islands are burned flat,
Just who said this and who said that?

Extinction looms as H-bombs glow—
With us its "Stevens Versus Joe";
A world's aflame; from us is heard
"Let's get those phone talks, word for word!"

LOW BLOOD PRESSURE

Robert S. Allen Reports

H-Bomb Dust Fall Out Is Affording Many Studies

Washington—There was a silver lining in that unexpectedly large cloud of radiated dust which resulted from the March 1 hydrogen bomb test in the South Pacific.

It is affording U. S. authorities the opportunity to conduct medical and other studies of momentous significance.

They were made possible through the accidental exposure of 28 men of the Navy and Air Force, most of them weather observers for the tests, to 40 milliroentgens of radiation.

That is five times more than any other living Americans have experienced.

This opened the way for the studies the scientists had never before been able to undertake on human beings.

Previously, the heaviest radiation exposure in the U. S. had been 8 milliroentgens. Scientists believed human beings could stand up to 50 milliroentgens for a short period without lasting ill effects.

The March 1 accident to the 28 servicemen has proven that laboratory theory to be correct. The exposed sailors and airmen are in good condition. There is no indication their health has been impaired. They are receiving special medical care, and are under constant expert observation which will last for months, and possibly years.

Of particular interest to the scientists is the type of clothing that was worn by these men.

Their exposure was not due to a shift in the wind. Those reports about that were overdrawn. The wind was not the cause of this accident. It was due to miscalculations on the size of the explosion and the consequent radioactive fall-out.

That covered twice the estimated area.

The Navy and Air Force men were caught in this under-estimated "danger zone" and absorbed 40 milliroentgens of radiation.

Note: A major reason for President Eisenhower's reassuring broadcast to the country is the extraordinary volume of mail that has been received by the White House and members of Congress on the hydrogen tests. Significantly, most of the letters are from the Middle West. Virtually all express great alarm and urge either more public information or measures to ban atomic warfare. Many of the letters contain references to papers and magazines published by religious organizations. One senator made a cross-section check of 150 letters he received in a single day and found they came from reputable individuals in his state.

More Aggression—At least 12,000 Chinese are known to be with the Communist Vietnamese in Indo-China.

Virtually all Red artillery at Dienbiensphu is manned by Chinese, particularly the Russian-made anti-aircraft guns that have caused the French so much trouble. From Vietnamese prisoners and other sources it has been positively established that these Chinese artillerymen number around 800.

Also, that an estimated 10,000 Chinese are being used to operate the enemy's supply system. A large part of them are coolie carriers.

Several days ago the French got a bill score when a flight of jet planes bearing Chinese markings appeared over Dienbiensphu.

They did not attack the fortress. They zoomed around the area, apparently on a reconnaissance mission. This French-centered incident is the first of its kind in this protracted war.

However, it's no surprise to Intelligence. They have known for months that the Chinese have an estimated 100 Russian MIG-15s on newly-built airfields in the Indo-China border. These fighter planes were shifted to this area from bases in Manchuria as a direct result of the Korean truce.

The French have no jet planes in Indo-China. All aircraft they have received from the U. S. is of World War II vintage.

Not: Speaker Joe Martin is telling colleagues he is urging the State Department and Pentagon to use Chinese Nationalist troops on Formosa before sending American forces to Indo-China. Martin also says the same position is held by Senate Republican Leader William Knowland, Calif.

U. S. Air Defenses — An unpublished report on American air defenses and readiness is of particular importance in these grim days of world-wide tension and uncertainty.

The document was put in the hands of the Senate and House Appropriations Committees by Gen. N. Twining, Chief of Staff of the Air Force. It is possible to publish the following significant highlights:

The Air Defense Command (which has the mission of protecting the U. S. from an enemy raid) has been on round-the-clock alert for more than three years.

The Air Force will equip every bomber and offensive fighter with nuclear weapons.

Significant changes in the world situation may require increasing the present goal of 137 Wings.

The Russian Air Force is steadily improving in quality and quantity. Soviet technology cannot be under-estimated in either skill or effectiveness.

Key portions of this revealing report that can be quoted verbatim are:

"The Soviet Air Force now has a large force of TU-4 medium bombers. Intelligence indicates this force is being converted to advance long-range bomber types. All these aircraft are capable of direct attack on the U. S. The Soviet has built up a large force of light jet bombers with a range that poses a serious threat to our interests both in the far East and Europe. The Russians also have a strong air defense in depth.

"The most significant development in the growth of our tactical air force is the ability to deliver nuclear weapons. It is our objective to equip every bomber and offensive fighter of the tactical forces to deliver nuclear weapons. It is also our policy to be able to deliver these weapons on an around-the-clock basis, regardless of weather.

George Sokolsky Says...

GOP Splintered, Fractionated By Matters Not Important To Party And To Country

Dealism to avoid a heavy dose of the ADA.

That might have been the program of the Eisenhower Administration had the Republican Party not permitted itself to be splintered and fractionated by diversions which are neither important to the party nor the country. For that reason, those who used to regard themselves as Taft Republicans — that is, those who could accept social reforms but not Socialism—wonder what has become of their party and whether it has any program at all. Calling Adlai Stevenson an egg-head, which is a euphemism for an educated dope, is not a program.

A case of fractionation appeared in the Women's National Republican Club in New York, which is a center for what might be called Republican intellectualism and has a committee to study the problems of Communism, which they have been doing in a manner that might be called interesting but unproductive.

So this committee invited William F. Buckley, Jr., to speak before it on April 26 and he accepted the invitation. Meanwhile, his book, "McCarthy and His Enemies," appeared, whereupon the board of directors cancelled the Buckley engagement. For some reason, they were not too anxious to tell him about it, but it leaked out and caused a quarrel that may seem of no significance compared to the hydrogen bomb, but which may nevertheless seriously affect the vote in New York in the 1954 campaign.

For, while what Lady Astor calls Left-Wing Republicans may have many thoughts on great subjects, the mechanics of party operations are the routine Republicans who waited for 20 years for the Democrats to be defeated and who were steadfast and loyal during those 20 years, doing the chores of party work in what appeared to be a political desert.

They are still in the desert with no oasis in sight. One of their number is Chairman of the Republican National Committee, but he has not been able to bring much bacon to his state in the form of jobs and honors to those who were steadfast and loyal in the bleak days of Roosevelt and Truman. The rejection of Buckley as a speaker before a Republican club is symbolic of the true and tried that their kind are not wanted.

What is being said among these ladies is repeated in every clubhouse in the State of New York. While it may appear to some that Governor Dewey's rough treatment of his principal supporters, because their associations with race-track ownership became public, is the cause for disension, actually working-politicians of both parties know about such things and expect the top boss to look fierce when the whitewash becomes impossible.

What is producing a hand-sitting Republican Party in New York is that the party workers see their enemies continued in office; that they see Republicans who worked with Roosevelt and Truman continued in excellent jobs; that honors go to men who have never been known to be Republicans, even if they secretly belonged to the faith; that the party has lost its general conservatism and therefore makes fools out of those who for 20 years stood by it, preaching a doctrine which, while adopted by the 1952 Convention, has been officially forgotten.

So, it is to be expected that in 1954, the political mechanics will be on strike—not openly, of course. Politicians have a way of sitting on their hands and dragging their feet. The only act that might mobilize the Republicans in New York would be for the Democrats to nominate Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., for Governor.

In New Jersey, the same atmosphere prevails. The nomination of Clifford P. Case for United States Senator was directed from Washington. The old-line Republicans do not want Mr. Case, but they were too split among themselves to do anything about it. They cannot, in conscience, vote against Case, but many will not vote for him, which is the same thing.

The atmosphere in these states need to be reported because the Republican margin in Congress is so narrow that failure to hold what they now have can only strengthen the Democrats.

Letters To The Editor

East Stroudsburg, Pa.
April 7, 1954

Dear Editor:

We, the undersigned, would appreciate the opportunity of explaining more clearly why a petition opposing Ordinance 434, to be enacted on a section of Ransberry Avenue, was presented to the Council at last meeting.

The majority of property owners in that section signed said petition, so we would like to state their various reasons by quoting in part what appeared in the first paragraph of the Ordinance. It called for: "establishing the lines, widths, and grades of the roadway, curbs and sidewalks of Ransberry Ave. from Anselmink St. to Normal St. . . and providing for the grading, paving, curbing, and guttering, laying of sidewalks, necessary drainage and otherwise improving said Ransberry Ave., and the repealing of Ordinance Nos. 123, 224, and 310."

In the latter part of the Ordinance it says as follows: "Upon failure of any of the above referred to real estate owners to lay said concrete side or footwalk in accordance with sec. 5 of the Ordinance, within 60 days after having received notice . . . the Council shall cause such side or footwalks to be laid . . . and will collect from the owner or owners thereof, the entire cost of the work and materials used in the construction of same, with 10 per cent, in addition thereon . . ."

The householders who signed the petition have no desire to assume an expense they consider unnecessary. The present road, if kept in good repair, is adequate for all traffic, including trucks and snow plow. In the report of

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

"There ought to be a law!" That was the unanimous verdict of a number of women who had assembled at an "afternoon tea" in a home not too far away from ours.

"Something ought to be done about such goings-on," one of the ladies who attended the affair, told us. "We all agreed that it's a disgrace to our country and makes our women look like a bunch of d-n fools."

She was talking, of course, about the Rubirosa affair and how the five-times-married Barbara Hutton was supposed to have given him a $200,000 plane, an $800,000 ranch, a fleet of high-powered cars, a string of polo ponies, jewelry galore and many other items.

"Just imagine what such a fortune could have done for the poor, the hungry, the sick," our visitor continued, "and to think that such a man is the minister of his country to Paris!"

This matter given to the Daily Record by the Council, it would appear that the main objection to this improvement was to the loss of trees by two sentimental, nature-loving women. That remains an objection. But the property owners also object to being forced to incur the expense of the aforementioned changes on the street when they have not asked for such.

The undersigned asked to have the repealed Ordinances, Nos. 123, 224 and 310 read to them, but the Council replied that there was no time at that meeting. As property owners would have to assume the major part of the whole expense of this work were it done, it would seem sensible to ask for all information available.

We considered that Councilmen were elected as representatives from each ward to protect the interests of the majority, rather than to be influenced by the whim or idea of two or three property owners.

We thank you for giving us this space in your newspaper.

Yours sincerely,
Frances B. Kiffin
Alice L. Kresge

This woman and her kaffeeklatch-attending sisters are perfectly right, of course.

The affair IS a crime—but what CAN be done about it? You can legislate away crime. You can isolate the victims of infectious diseases. You can shoot mad dogs.

But as long as women admire and fall for these "boudoir ramblers," "International Cassanovas" and "gigolos," as the newspapers call them, no law in the world will prevent the legitimate theft of their fortunes from rich thrill-seekers.

Already this notorious Dominican is mixed up with another woman who loves publicity. I doubt that this other woman will be as foolish financially as the many who preceded her. She will probably just use him as a means to get further publicity and then go on her merry way.

No, there need not be any law for that sort of thing. We men are always being blamed for chasing the girls. But I have noticed that sexy men, no matter how useless they are, are just as attractive to foolish women as ludicrous blondes with a well-constructed chassis are to foolish men.

And, just as the biggest fools are OLD fools, so the biggest fooleries are the old ones.

You should have seen the excitement down in Miami when Liberace made his appearance! But I have written about that before, so I don't want to repeat myself. And then, I just had hot cakes with syrup for breakfast, and they are not very easily digestible. So why think of things that might turn my stomach?

By the way, this same woman who told us about that afternoon tea at which Rubirosa was condemned, went wild over an invitation to a "charity" ball at one of New York's most fashionable hotels for the benefit of a foreign country. It was lying on my desk, reeking of violet perfume. "Subscriptions" were $75 per person, and the list of patronesses and committee members read like a page out of the Social Register.

In my outgoing mail, one envelope was to the ball committee, with our regrets. Another was a little contribution to the Red Cross.

"She's at that awkward age—not married yet."

Parked Type Of Thinking Worthless

—by Leonard Randolph

It was Thomas Watson, president of International Business Machines, who first began pushing the "Think" campaign on a national scale, if I remember correctly. It was a rather large success there for awhile. Nearly every business office, defense factory or school faculty room you walked into would have one of those terrifying black and white signs on the wall.

The sign was simple. All it said was "Think." The desired effect, of course, was that everyone who took a gander at the sign would immediately sit down and put his available gray matter to work on some problem of pressing import, either in his own day to day existence or in the overall machinations of the world. "Think," said the sign.

Like most other slogans, catch-phrases and bromides I doubt that "Think" had much effect one way or another. Telling people to "Think," it seems to me, is just about on a par with telling them to "Eat" or "Shut Up" or "Drop Dead". First time you see it you might be aroused enough to give it a thought or two.

But the inevitable first question that arises is this: "About what?" Does it do any good, for example, just to sit and "Think" without any apparent aim or purpose? It's easy to see where this aimlessness might lead.

Let a man sit down for a few minutes with Nothing on his mind and "Think." Within a matter of seconds he'll have something on his mind. Not anything specific, you understand, but something all the same. If he's a James Watt he might come up with a steam locomotive. If he's an Isaac Newton he might get to thinking about that falling apple and come up with a theory on gravity.

Take that Mayor who recently made Life Magazine with his "Think" campaign. During his first couple of weeks one of his aides came up with a solution to the bad lighting in one of the council rooms. Solution: A couple of bulbs needed changing. Another guy decided the ceiling in his office was dirty. And all this came about just because the Mayor said "Think" for a half-hour after his helpers got to the office.

Now the only trouble with all this is that it's an enforced rule set down by a powerful and possibly benevolent, albeit invisible, "superior." It snatches of the totalitarian. Who knows, after you've started all those poor people to thinking, it might be easy to leave little slips lying on the tables and boxes nearby with slits in their lids saying: Kindly place thoughts here.

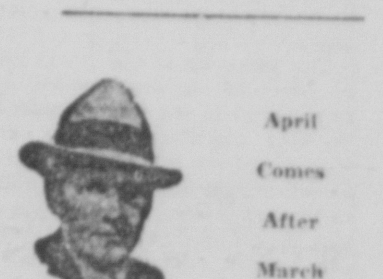

Thinking is a wonderful thing. No doubt about it. But is it any more important than doing? Heaven knows we have few enough thinkers in the world today, but how many of them got their start by reading a sign saying "Think"? Maybe what we ought to do is start a campaign to get people to "Say what you think." Maybe that's just as important as sitting in ordained silence and letting your mind turn to thoughts of dust and burned-out light bulbs and murder.

One of the best rejoinders to this particular type of thing that I've heard so far is one credited to O. A. Batista and passed on to me by assistant county superintendent Walt Sebring.

Mr. Batista says: "The trouble with some people who stop to think is that they stay parked."

On Broadway

—by Walter Winchell

I guess this year we'll have the same old ration. As sentimental spirits are aware, Of April poems about precipitation, Of wind and rain caressing lovers' hair. And once again we'll hear some maudlin fables, Of hearts in flower 'neath those linden shades, How magic rain turns homely girls to Graces, And never meets mascara in their eyes!

The only time to fall in love, It seems, Is on a drizzly, puddly April day. Fair Cupid's aim is better when it rains, And walking when you're drenched is oh, so gay! And so it goes, the same old soggy gab, When April showers come, I'll take a cab!

Rev. Loftus New Pastor Of Tabernacle

The Gospel Tabernacle, at 37 S. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, has called Rev. P. H. Loftus, of Sweet Valley, Pa., to be the pastor.

He will begin his duties on Sunday with a service at 3 p.m., followed by communion.

Rev. Loftus has been active in evangelism and young people's work in Wyoming Valley for many years. He has often preached here. For the present, Rev. Loftus will reside in Sweet Valley, driving here for week-ends.

Rev. O. H. Darby began the Gospel Tabernacle, interdenominational, nearly 25 years ago at its present location. Although his advanced years prevents him from doing active pastoral duty, he will remain as pastor emeritus and reside in the rooms adjoining the tabernacle.

A community Bible study has been organized, called Bible Truth Seekers. This study will be held this week in the basement of the First Baptist Church on N. Courtland St. at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, with Rev. P. H. Loftus leading the study of the third chapter of St. John. These studies will continue each Saturday night under the leadership of the pastors of this community. The place and name of the pastor leading the study will be announced each week.

Rev. Houston Recalled As Pastor Here

Rev. Edward T. Houston was recalled as pastor of the Pilgrim Holiness Church, Stroudsburg, at the annual meeting of the congregation.

In accepting the pastorate for another year beginning May 1, Rev. Houston thanked the membership for its cooperation. He came to Stroudsburg in 1950 after serving the Woodbury, N. J., parish for three years.

The vote on Rev. Houston's recall was unanimous. Rev. G. A. Castevens, district superintendent, presided.

Those elected to the official church board are: Albert Treible, Sunday School Superintendent; Edward F. Metzgar, church treasurer; Carabelle Warner, church secretary; Daniel Wise, C. Earl Doll, William Everitt, elders; Mrs. Lucy Barry, Mrs. Elmina Tamulis, Mrs. Nelson Whitmore, deaconesses.

Other results of the election are: Assistant S. S. superintendent, Marvin Getz; S. S. secretary, Lorraine Tamulis; S. S. treasurer, Mrs. Albert Treible; S. S. librarian, Caroline Warner; Missionary Society president, Werthe Ritter; trustees, Charles Williams, William Everitt, Richard Patchen; pianist, Carabelle Warner; delegates to district conference, Mrs. Kendall Cramer, Mrs. Edward Metzgar.

Pupils Attend Science Fair

Sciota — Seventh and eighth grade pupils of Mrs. Mildred Cyphers, science instructor at Hamilton Township Consolidated School, attended the recent science fair held in Wayne gymnasium at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

The trip was made by bus with Mrs. Lucy Warner, fifth grade teacher, as chaperone. The group was accompanied on their tour of the exhibits by Mrs. Cyphers, who spent the day attending the annual science conference.

Dr. Harold S. Pond, Jr. will be out of town April 3 through April 11, inclusive—Adv.

Taylor University A Capella Choir

University Choir To Present Concert Here Sunday Night

Sunday at 8 p.m., Palm Sunday evening, in the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church, the Taylor University A Capella Choir, will appear in a sacred concert. These young people are presenting 16 concerts in their Easter tour.

The choir is directed by Dr. Eugene Pearson. The program which will be heard on Sunday night is divided into four groups which include selections by J. S. Bach, Noble Cain, Heinrich Schuetz and John Stainer. Highlights of the concert are the group of Holy Week numbers and the group of Negro spirituals.

The choir was organized four years ago. Weekend concerts are sung in neighboring communities and this spring tour is the highlight of the choir year. Members of the choir are chosen by audition and intensive rehearsals are held four times a week.

Taylor University, located at Upland, Ind., is an accredited four-year college, offering a liberal arts education. It was named for Bishop William Taylor, world missionary, and has been known for its Christian emphasis for over one hundred years.

'Crown Of Thorns' Film To Be Shown

Swiftwater—The Paradise Valley Assembly of God is sponsoring a film, "The Crown of Thorns" at the POS of A Hall in Mountainhome. The first part will be shown tonight at 7:45, and the second part on Good Friday, same time. Other short films will also be shown at each program, and there will be music on cow- and sleighbells as well as other special music.

The public is invited to attend both showings. A free-will offering will be taken.

Rev. David Wellard, pastor of the P. V. Assembly of God, announced that the teacher-training courses have been completed, and 19 received their certificates last Tuesday. He is now giving a series of lectures on a chart entitled "Wedding in the Air."

Courtright Wins Tractor Contest

Stroudsburg High School vocational agriculture department held its annual "tractor safety" contest yesterday.

Winner in the two-hour competition was Herbert Courtright, Stroudsburg. Competing students were judged on the basis of the lowest number of points accumulated against them by observers.

Courtright's 70 point score was the lowest of the afternoon. Judges for the event were Wilmer B. Frisbie, county agriculture education supervisor and Albert Cross, Stroudsburg vocational ag instructor.

Other winners in the contest were: Howard Blakeslee, second, 110 points; Sam Blakeslee, third, 135 points; Walter Hoffman, fourth, 170 points; Dave Schoonover, fifth, 175 points.

Also Bobby Courtright, sixth, 235 points; Charles Gusselt, seventh, 335 points; Harry Dieter, eighth, 370 points; Tom Carson, ninth, 465 points; Terry Bartleson, tenth, 500 points.

The students were judged on the basis of safety tests conducted prior to operation of the tractor, operation of the tractor during the actual test and maneuvering of the vehicle.

Dog Objects To Scolding, Bites Woman

Dogs, it appears, are sometimes like human beings. They don't like to be held up to public scorn. Mrs. John Dimmick, of Shawnee, scolded her dog for chasing geese and the animal reacted by biting her on both hands, nurses at General Hospital, quoted her as saying.

Mrs. Dimmick was treated in the hospital dispensary Thursday. The wounds were not believed to be serious.

In 1890, about 69 per cent of U. S. men over 65 were in the labor force compared with about 42 per cent in 1950.

Meter Revenue Up $3,607 Over 1953 Quarter

Revenue from Stroudsburg's parking meters has jumped $3,607.73 in the first three months of 1954 over the same period of 1953.

A report prepared and submitted Stroudsburg Council by Harold E. Snyder, borough secretary shows that receipts in January, February and March totaled $9,903.39 compared with $6,295.66 for the same months a year ago.

March produced $3,935.08 compared with $2,459.93 in March of 1953.

For the 12-month period ending with March 31, revenues stood at $38,584.17 compared with $29,009.54 for the same period last year.

Borough's regular account started March 1 with $19,678.35, James Somers, borough treasurer told council. Expenses for the month were $11,287.45, leaving an April 1 balance of $8,390.90.

Somers reported the sewer account started with $9,614.07 March 31 and after expenses of $1,365.42 ended up with a balance of $8,248.55.

The treasurer said the borough received $1,293.32 from the state as an installment for the highway aid fund; $1,879.83 from Tax Collector J. A. Kitchen on account of 1953 taxes and $36.80 from the County of Monroe for 1952 taxes.

Bills approved for payment on regular account amounted to $10,528.19. Sewer account bills approved totaled $1,177.53.

Tract Sold In Hamilton

A Hamilton Township property adjoining land of Bertie Shook has been sold, according to deeds recorded yesterday at the Court-house.

Grantor was Mrs. Anna C. O'Neil, Alexandria, Va., and grantee was Glenn W. Learn, East Stroudsburg RD2. The property consists of 100 acres.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Johnson, Mount Pocono, transferred to Charles E. Deubler, Coolbaugh Township, a small plot in that district.

Another small tract on the road from Saylorsburg to Hamilton Square in Hamilton Township was bought by Gerald E. Setzer, Hamilton, from Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Altemose, Chestnut Hill Township.

Township Buys New Dump Truck

Porter Township—Purchase of a new dump truck for township road work was approved here this week by Porter Township Board of Supervisors. Award went to Tucker Motor Co., Stroudsburg.

It was reported all township roads are being improved and maintained. Present were Arch Bush and Les Hartford of Beaver Run and Lloyd Franks, of Stroudsburg.

Borough Council Considers Pension Plan For Employees

Another proposal for setting up a pension retirement system for all borough employees came under study of Stroudsburg Council this week.

New proposal was submitted by Investors Diversified Services represented here by T. Manning Curtis. Mr. Curtis was accompanied by M. A. Coleman, Allentown district representative of the firm.

Council plans to make an early decision on the pension project after the series of plans now under study are subjected to studies and recommendations of an independent pension consultant.

Secretary Harold E. Snyder was authorized to hire a part-time secretary to assist in handling the heavy volume of work connected with the borough secretary's office. Mr. Snyder was also authorized to purchase required office equipment.

Shiffer's Bituminous Service was awarded contract for street oil. Contract for stone went to T. P. Rogers Stone Co. Bill-Rich Bituminous Manufacturing Co. got a contract for 100 tons of asphalt concrete.

Request of Monroe Silk Mills that the borough consider treatment of waste disposal from that plant was accepted. Council will advise the firm that they must hire a qualified engineering consultant to determine flow and type of the waste and consult with Albright & Friel, sewer consultants of the borough, before a decision can be made.

Dr. Thomas I. Metzgar will be out of town, and office will be closed from April 4 to April 11.

Fire Damages Loaded Truck

Bartonsville — Fire disabled a tractor-trailer loaded with fertilizer at 2:10 a. m. yesterday on Route 611 near here.

The tires of the New York truck were first to catch fire, reported the Stroud Township Fire Co. The fire spread to the body of the trailer.

Hand extinguishers failed to put out the flames. The tractor was unhitched and driven off some distance, and the fire company summoned. Volunteers put out the blaze. All four sets of tires were destroyed. It was reported.

The trailer was left by the side of the road just south of here while new tires were sent for from Syracuse.

Restaurant Chain Buys Gap Site

Delaware Water Gap—The nationally known restaurant chain, Howard Johnson's, will construct one of its typical turnpike establishments along new Route 611 on the approach to the Delaware Water Gap bridge, it was learned yesterday.

A deed was filed in Monroe County Court house transferring almost two acres of property to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Shops, Inc., an affiliate of Howard Johnson's. The property was owned by John H. and Elizabeth G. Chamberlain.

A spokesman for the Johnson chain was quoted as saying the building will not be constructed this year, but that ultimately, a Howard Johnson restaurant will be built on the site.

The land is 375 by 250 feet and formerly was the property of George LaBar until acquired by Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain. It is situated on the north side of the new bridge approach, almost directly opposite the cemetery here.

Harold Edwards represented the Howard Johnson firm in negotiations. The Chamberlains were represented by Alex Bensinger Jr.

School Board Sets Tax Of Seven Mills

Porter Township—School board of this Pike County township reinstated the seven mill tax rate this week and announced it was the lowest in the county.

Members voted to attend the district conference in Milford next Tuesday where the election of a Pike County school superintendent will take place.

Herbert Young, president, was in charge of the meeting. Also present were Earl Sterner, vice president, Mae Smith, Irene Foreman, secretary, and Elizabeth Arns, treasurer.

Grange Helps Family Move

Cherry Valley—Members of Cherry Valley Grange and a group of neighbors displayed their co-operative spirit when they assisted the Frank Majestic family in moving to their new home.

Among those heading the moving party were Jacob Hartman, Oren Reish, Thomas Rogers and James Cyphers, all providing trucks. Later a dinner was served to those participants in the Grange Hall.

CLIPPED SCRIPT. A satire on the popular radio-TV show, "Dragnet", noted for its short, snappy, underplayed dialogue, will form part of tonight's 20th annual concert by East Stroudsburg school band. The special number is called "St. George and the Dragonet". In the cast, from left to right, are Roberta Hochne, Ray Fellman, Charles Reid, Alden Litts, Jere Young and Sheldon Bernbaum.

Twenty Years Of Band Music To Climax In Concert Today

Playing "pop" tunes, old-time marches and symphonic band numbers, East Stroudsburg school band gives its annual concert tonight at 8.

In the borough junior high school auditorium, the band and its director, Clement Wiedmeyer, will be marking the 20th anniversary of instrumental music in East Stroudsburg schools.

The material offered will range from Stan Freberg's free-wheeling parody of "Dragnet"—"St. George and the Dragonet"—to a condensed version of George Gershwin's symphonic jazz tone poem, "Rhapsody in Blue."

In between concertgoers will hear selections by modern Broadway composer Richard Rodgers ("The King and I") and "The March King," John Philip Sousa. The Junior Band opens the program with the "Vanguard March" by Hollingsworth, followed by Eisenberg's "Neptune Overture"; a band arrangement of "Freud," a popular tune; "Mocking Bird Hill"; "A Hunting We Will Go"; and the "Honor Band March."

Soloist for "The Trumpeters," the Junior Band's final selection, will be Robert Kassner, Claire Hughes, vocal music instructor in the borough schools, will be the accompanist.

For the concert's second section, guest conductor Maurice Taylor will take over the Senior Band. Selections to be included will be "Northern Pines" by Sousa; "Zampa Overture" by Herold; "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" by J. S. S. Schubert's "Ave Maria"; "The Phantom Regiment" by Leroy Anderson; "Selections from the King and I" and Darcy's "March Fantastique."

Wiedmeyer, regular conductor of the band, will direct the final portion of the program. "The U. S. Army March," by Darcy; "The Legend of Little John," this year's contest selection; "Ba Ta Cu Da"; "Chartreuse"; "Colossus of Columbia" and "Stars and Stripes Forever" are among the selections to be heard on this third section of the concert.

A "preview" performance—for students only—was given yesterday afternoon at the junior high school.

Altar Board Plans Fashion Show For April

The executive board of the Altar and Rosary Society met in one of the school rooms on Wednesday night with Mrs. Theodore Viechnicki presiding.

The program for the April meeting was planned. Mrs. H. T. Slaboski, chairman, announced that there would be a fashion show under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Williams, featuring members of the society as models, and clothes from Montgomery Ward.

Mrs. Robert Pabst, ways and means chairman, will conduct a candy sale.

The slate of officers to be voted upon at the next meeting was presented. They include: president, Mrs. Adolph Appel; vice president, Mrs. William Lopez; secretary, Miss Clara Lombardi; financial secretary, Mrs. Walter Grotkowski.

Board members attending the meeting were: Mrs. Viechnicki, Mrs. Arthur Henning, Miss Clara Lombardi, Mrs. Arthur Blewit, Mrs. Adolph Appel, Mrs. Henry Hefele, Mrs. William Hannas, Mrs. Russell Nevil and Mrs. Edward Driebe.

Miss Frailey Celebrates 15th Birthday

Bartonsville — Elizabeth Frailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verdon Frailey, recently celebrated her fifteenth birthday with a dinner party at the home of her parents.

Those attending were Bernina and Sarah Hostetter, of East Stroudsburg; Mrs. Ethel Reinert, of Chipperfield Drive; Mrs. Avon Doll and daughter, Linda Ann; Mr. and Mrs. Verdon Frailey, John Frailey and the guest of honor, Elizabeth Frailey, all of Bartonsville.

Mrs. Albertson Officiates At Palmerton Aux.

Mrs. Georgia Albertson, of Stroudsburg, president of District 20, Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, was the installing officer at the installation ceremonies of the auxiliary of Palmerton Memorial Post No. 7134, at Palmerton, on Wednesday night.

She was assisted by the color guard from Auxiliary 2540, Thomas P. Lambert Post; Lucille Coyne, Helen Shiffer, Hazel Ellenberger and Lucille Anusiewicz. Mrs. Frances Ransberger, Mrs. Ada Steen and Mrs. Grace Shook were other members of the local auxiliary who accompanied the group.

Following the meeting, the Palmerton auxiliary entertained in honor of the visiting team. The tables were decorated for Easter, and elaborate refreshments were served.

Mrs. Albertson, with other members of the local VFW Auxiliary, will join representatives of other auxiliaries in District 20 for a chartered bus trip to Scotland, Pa., this Saturday. They will take with them birthday and Easter gifts for the children at the Scotland School. The auxiliary maintains 11 boys and two girls at the school.

Legion Auxiliary And Juniors Aid Hospital Party

Newfoundland — Unit No. 859, American Legion Auxiliary, met in the Legion Home, Greentown, Tuesday night and discussed plans for Spring and early Summer activities.

Of immediate interest was the announcement of the meeting of the unit's younger members to make Easter tray favors for veterans in the Wilkes-Barre Veterans' hospital. They will meet Sunday at the home of Mrs. Willard Newcomer, chairman of the Juniors committee.

The unit voted to donate five dollars to committee in charge of ward parties at the Wilkes-Barre hospital. Mrs. John Cunningham is rehabilitation chairman.

Mrs. Loftus Smith Jr., president, announced that the Spring meeting of the Wayne-Pike council of the Auxiliary would be held at Paupack on April 17 beginning at 10 a.m. Reservations for luncheon must be made with Mrs. Smith not later than April 12.

The group discussed the Mother-Daughter tea, which is served to all mothers of area veterans on the Sunday immediately preceding Mothers' Day. The unit's executive committee, which will meet at the Home on April 27, will be in charge of the tea.

A girl to be chosen from the junior class at the Greene-Dreher Sterling High School will represent the unit at Keystone Girls camp, a citizenship training camp conducted by the State organization of the Auxiliary in July. This activity comes under the supervision of the unit's Americanism committee, Mrs. Jay Robbins, chairman.

Mrs. Robert Marsch, chairman of the organization's Girl Scout committee, reported that 29 girls are now members of the recently-organized troop. They meet at the home every Monday at 4 p.m. and expect shortly to complete the preliminary work leading to the tenderfoot rank.

Initiation ceremonies for 5 new members are planned for the next meeting of the group on May 4. The program was in charge of Mrs. Charles Ehrhardt, music chairman. She presented Romayne Cunningham and Judy Staph in piano numbers and Mrs. Donald Barnes and Mrs. C. Allen Edwards in a vocal duet.

Mrs. Gillam In Sketches At Fashion Show

Cornelia Stabler Gillam's dramatic monologues will provide two of the highlights at tonight's Kiwanis Club Fashion Show being given at Stroudsburg High School auditorium for the benefit of the YMCA building fund.

Mrs. Gillam, wife of Clifford Gillam of Buck Hill Falls, is one of the foremost monologists of the country. She has toured with the USO abroad, been a guest artist at the White House, and appeared before clubs and groups all over the country.

Author as well as interpreter of her dramatic sketches, she incorporates in them the reality of living as wife and mother.

One of her sketches tonight is a favorite with local audiences, when she will appear as the grandmother with her catalogue. The second sketch is to be a brand new one which she has never given locally.

DAVID'S

What's a specialty shop?

As the name indicates, a specialty shop is something special... and, in a way, it's just another name for David's Kiddy Togs.

Since we're a specialty shop outfitting children from the cradle to size 14, we feel we can offer you a far greater choice of the most popular and nationally famous clothes. We devote our entire time shopping the children's market, always alert for the best values at the best price.

Last November and December when you were busy with your Christmas shopping we were scouting the market for Spring. Now we believe we have the nicest selection of Spring clothes we've ever had.

If you're looking for a cute Easter outfit for your daughter, be sure to see the new coats and suits, the pert little Easter bonnets and pocketbooks, blouses, skirts and dresses.

And for the little man of the family, we have the newest styles in sport coats, slacks and shirts... just like Dad will wear this Spring.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Empire Box, the last of eight teams to enter the Monroe County Softball League, became the first to pay its entrance fee when the organization forwarded its $75 to Jack Mullins, president of the circuit. Other members of the league are expected to follow suit in the very near future. Gary Emanuel, former basketball star at Stroudsburg High, suffered a knee injury in an automobile accident near Bloomsburg on Tuesday night. Gary and four other Penn State students were enroute to New York for a special course of study when the accident occurred.

John Saylor, one of the outstanding members of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College swimming team last winter, suffered a broken nose during a gym class on Tuesday. Saylor, who is also a candidate for the ESSTC track squad, was struck on the nose by a baseball when he wasn't looking. Tom Marley, former Wilson Borough High student who was being counted on by Coach Howard DeNike to help the ESSTC track team this season, has been forced to withdraw from school because of illness in the family. Marley reportedly cleared 12 feet in high school pole vaulting.

The Eagles have decided to increase their insurance on each member of the softball team to $1,000 this season. They have also decided to ease the financial burden for Floyd "Blink" Holloway, who is currently recovering from a badly broken leg. The injury occurred while Holloway was holding down second base for the Eagles last September during a state tournament at Columbia, Pa. Holloway is reportedly on the road to recovery after undergoing surgery at Philadelphia's Jefferson Hospital recently.

"Gutter-Mutter," our bowling column that won't be present next Tuesday, due to the fact that this write is off on a one-week vacation, reportedly pulled a clunker this week. It seems that the 290 game rolled by Mrs. Horace Butler recently wasn't the first 290 game in the history of the Skittlers' League. Actually Audrey Wyckoff rolled a 292 contest at the Pocono Bowling Center last season. A baseball game featuring the Stroudsburg High varsity and faculty, originally scheduled for yesterday, was postponed until next Monday when confusion occurred in preparations for the tussle.

Bill Wells, popular and well known figure in local athletic circles, has nine reasons why the New York Yankees won't win the American League pennant. File 'em away until October, Bill, and we'll examine the situation once again at that time. Mt. Carmel and Slatington won't clash in football next season as reported previously. A change in plans now has Mt. Carmel meeting Sayre on the date originally listed for Slatington. The Stroudsburg Little League will hold a business meeting on Monday night.

The odd part of the Monroe County League's current setup is the fact that a decided favoritism is being shown to the basketball player over the youngster who plays baseball. The circuit recently decided to play 15 basketball games per team next season, but refused to budge from the plan to hold only five baseball games. It may be alright for the boy who plays both sports, or even basketball, but for the youngster who plays only baseball it's a plain injustice.

I'll agree that the league has an argument in the weather problem, but they had the same difficulties in the early 1940s and still managed to play at least 10 games. One or more schools in the Monroe County League support the five-game baseball schedule because it takes the players out of class less often. They produced pretty good students in the country schools back in the early 1940s, scholars who could hold their own in our present day schools.

It is obvious, at least on the surface, that schools like Bartlett and Polk would like to play more than five games this season. Polk has at least six outings on its agenda and Bartlett will go into action on seven occasions. Pocono has two practice games listed in addition to the regularly scheduled number. True, balls do cost something like $30 a dozen now, but I'm sure that the various communities will lend a hand in the equipment department. Special events could be held to raise money to equip baseball teams, providing all concerned would like to give a little time and work.

Crowding five games into two and one-half weeks of time, means that the Monroe County League will wrap up its campaign on Friday, May 14. The opener is set for Friday, April 30. This move also means that the league has virtually cut itself out of the District 11 Pennsylvania Interscholastic Association playoffs, unless the champions a club wants to keep practicing until the very late days of May or early June, when the playoff grind begins.

Wayne Conference Turns Down Milford, Matamoras

Honesdale—Milford and Matamoras High Schools, both of Pike County, will not campaign in the Wayne County Basketball Conference next season, it was announced here at Honesdale High following a conference meeting on Wednesday night.

The conference membership, including all schools, rejected applications for admission from both Milford and Matamoras, after voting on five different scheduling plans.

A unanimous vote was required to approve any one of the plans and in each case there were complications.

Four factors were prominent in turning down the request. The quartet of reasons included long traveling distances, over scheduling, the ending of old rivalries and the fact that several schools in the Wayne County Conference maintain girls' basketball teams.

The conference did pass a resolution that whenever possible its members should schedule exhibition games with both Milford and Matamoras.

Paul P. Ryder, assistant county superintendent of schools and commissioner of the Wayne County Conference, has notified both Matamoras and Milford of the circuit's decision by mail.

AP Names Players To Little All-State

By Dick Hoenig

Harrisburg (AP) — Don Hennon, the only sophomore ever to rate first team mention, tops the 1954 Associated Press Little All State basketball team named yesterday.

The 5-8 guard from Wampum High of the WPAL, now a junior, is the only holdover on the fifth annual squad representing the best in Pennsylvania small school basketball.

Trailing the sharpshooting Section 20 star by four points in the voting, 108-104, was Bob Mantz, mainstay of the Mount Penn team that lost the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association class "B" state final to Irwin, Irwin's "Chuck" Hursh, Jay Metzler of Mount Joy and the state's leading scorer for the 1953-54 season, Laurel Hill's Phil Harding, fill out the all star five.

The team was chosen for the Associated Press by 100 coaches, sportswriters and sportscasters of the state. Points were tabulated on the basis of 10 for first choice, nine for second choice, etc. Every boy in the state playing basketball for a school registered class "B" or "C" in enrollment (under 500) is eligible for the team, highest honor a schoolboy can receive. A total of 175 received votes this year.

The undersized-as basketball players go these days—Hennon led Wampum to its section title as he broke every WPAL scoring record except the individual game mark. Beside being the number one shooter, (82.1 per cent on the year), Hennon led his team in defensive interceptions, was second in assists and third in rebounding.

He missed the 20 point mark only twice in the 24 games he played. His record: total points—686 in 24 games, game average—28.6, best night—38 against Mount Jackson. "Phenomenal Phil" Harding is possibly the best high school player to come out of the Scranton region. The 6-1, 155-pound senior is a demon on rebounding, can handle the ball, play out in front or do anything on the court.

His per game average and total points for the year put that of Wilt Chamberlain, leader of the all-state quintet for class "A" school players, Laurel Hill, PCIAA member of the Scranton area Catholic Basketball League, is located at Susquehanna, Pa. Harding's record total points—775, game average—38.5, best night—58 against St. Ann's.

Mantz also is a brilliant all around player. He starred on defense, was strong on rebounds and is an excellent playmaker. A husky 6-5 senior, the 17-year-old helped Mount Penn to its first eastern Pennsylvania class "B" title and a 26-2 season record. Mantz established a school scoring standard. His record: total points—555 in 28 games, game average—19.6; best night—35 against Wilson.

Metzler established three PIAA class "C" tournament records as Mount Joy reached its record state final and lost. The 6-5, 205 pound center is an honor student. His accuracy from the floor was 48.6 per cent for the year, a rare figure in schoolboy competition. His record: total points—674 in 30 games, game average—22.3, best night—44 against Prospect Park in an interdistrict playoff.

Hursh, 6-4, 185-pounder, was one of five good boys who combined to bring Irwin an unprecedented fourth class "B" state crown. Hursh, tabbed the best rebounder in the Greensburg area in class "A" or "B", seldom played a full game because of his team's superiority. The Black Knights lost only twice in 30 starts. Hursh prefers passing off to shooting. His record: total points—359 in 30 games; game average—12.

Dodgers Dump Senators, 6-2
Washington (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers scored their 20th exhibition victory in 31 games with a 6-2 triumph over the Washington Senators last night before a top-coast crowd of 6,310 fans in Griffith Stadium.

Eight Hits
Preacher Roe, Joe Black and rookie Tom La Sorda pitched for the National League champions and held the Senators to eight hits.

Ike, McKeldin To Confer On Moving Depot

Maryland Gov. Theodore McKeldin will take his fight to keep a Signal Corps Depot away from Tobyhanna and right where it is to the White House today.

The depot is now located at Dundalk in suburban Baltimore. It is being closed down. All of its facilities—with the exception of a garage—will be moved to Tobyhanna. McKeldin will confer with President Eisenhower at 12:45 p. m. today.

The governor said he will tell Eisenhower that moving the depot from Baltimore would result in considerable unemployment in that area.

The decision to transfer the Baltimore operations to Tobyhanna is also under fire from other quarters.

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Easton) has protested that the Army's decision to move employees from Baltimore to Tobyhanna will result in Pennsylvania workers being forced out of their jobs.

One of the original reasons for placing the Signal Depot in Tobyhanna, Rep. Walter has said, was to relieve harsh unemployment conditions in the hard-hit Northeastern Pennsylvania region.

Depot Helps Employes Find Housing

The Tobyhanna Signal Depot is establishing a housing facilities file to assist employes in locating desirable housing within the commuting area of the installation.

As the depot continues toward its ultimate in personnel strength, the need for housing will also increase.

Therefore, depot officials said, it would be appreciated if all persons having apartments or homes for rent or for sale would submit a brief description of the property such as exact location, rental or sale price, type of property, and any other pertinent information to the Public Information Officer, Tobyhanna Signal Depot, Tobyhanna, Pa.

More than 2,000 different kinds of automobiles were marketed in the United States before 1912.

Checkerboard News

by Carl Michaels
J. M. WYCKOFF

Blake Frasier reports it was twin Holstein calves last Sunday morning, a 93 lb. bull and 90 lb. heifer, at his U-Bar-V Ranch behind Buck Hill Falls on Cresco R.D. The mother, who milked 14,582 lbs. during her last lactation, is in fine shape having been conditioned with Purina Dry & Freshening Chow during the past eight weeks. Blake has been on the Purina Dairy Program for the past two years.

NURSING CHOW PLAN for STARTING CALVES POPULAR

Nursing Chow, a new Purina product, lets you take calves off milk when only 3 days old. Calves get Nursing Chow for 30 days. Dry Calf Startena is kept before them from the 3rd day till they are 4 months old. Hay is withheld for the first 2 months.
